

Andro 42: Pheromones And Increased Attractiveness

Who would have thought that the reason why some men and women attract other women and men more than the rest had something to do with certain chemicals called pheromones that our entire body releases. These chemicals are something that we release through our skin and the larger the amount we release the more sexually attractive we appear. This is because once we release the pheromones they travel undetected through the nose of our 'could be' partner and trigger in their mind a subconscious feeling that translates into increased sexual responses.

This Kind of Determines How Attractive You are to Your 'Could be' Partner

Your clothes, cologne and also looks maybe important but they are secondary when compared to these chemicals. This is what explains those off days and nights when nothing seems to be going right and those other days when you seem to hit a bit of a lean patch. It all has to do with the amount of this chemical you are releasing through your skin.

It for Real

Many people would question the veracity of these chemicals after reading this. If you do too, you would like to know that actual research has gone into this topic to find out the attraction designs of men and women.
